1. SACUA

SACUA met on September 9, September 16, and September 30.

Highlights during the September 9 meeting included the opportunity to provide feedback on the University of Michigan Emergency Alert System Opt-Out Project and review of Senate Assembly committee charges for the next academic year.

Highlights during the September 16 meeting included discussions concerning planning of content for the 2019 Big Ten Academic Alliance Governance Conference that will be hosted by the Faculty Senate Office from October 17 – October 19. SACUA committee liaisons were also approved for Senate Assembly committees.

President Mark Schlissel was a guest at the September 30 meeting. President Schlissel responded to requests for information that SACUA submitted prior to the meeting including requests about issues that have arisen in connection with foreign interests in research activities, input about the administration's stance on vaping activities on campus, and plans to address parking concerns at the University Hospital. SACUA also engaged with President Schlissel during executive session. SACUA discussed a report prepared by the Information Technology Committee last year, which included concerns about the inability to secure a meeting between Academic Innovation and the Committee, and a review of on-line voting/participation for Faculty Senate meetings. Ivo Dinov, the immediate past chair of the Information Technology Committee and current SACUA member will report back to SACUA at an upcoming meeting about technology requirements to implement e-voting.

Provost Martin Philbert is scheduled to attend an upcoming SACUA meeting on October 7 in which he and members of the Provost's Office will discuss HLC accreditation.
